

The last full week before Memorial Day is “National Backyard Games Week” so start planning! Create an afternoon or night of fun for your family! Plan several games that you could all enjoy. You may even want to draw a map of your backyard and decide where each game will be played. Don’t forget...you could even invite the neighbors.